

photo Ewa Hector Agorelius

UN International Day of Peace - Tuesday 21 September 2021

It is the first day of the General Debate of the 76th session of the UN General Assembly.

Celebration of the UN International Day of Peace at Alfred Nobel House, Karlskoga, Sweden.

The United Nations established the International Day of Peace 40 years ago in 1981. The theme in 2021 is "Recovering better for an equitable and sustainable world". It will be celebrated at Alfred Nobel House in Karlskoga, Sweden, in the Sustainable Gastronomy exhibition, with a presentation of the following books:

UN - Making Peace with Nature - A blueprint for a sustainable world (UNEP United Nations Environment Program - Norwegian Ministry of Climate & Environment - European Union - 2021) - Photo of Pelle Agorelius with the front cover, curator of the exhibition, with Alfred Nobel statue at Alfred Nobel House.

- Afghanistan - With our Own Hands, A celebration of food and life in the Pamir mountains of Afghanistan and Tajikistan (LM Publishers 2015) - The distribution of the cookbook to 2000 villages was filmed for National Geographic.

- Arctic - Eallu, The Herd, by Reindeer Herders Youth from 28 indigenous peoples, adaptation to climate change and food culture (Arctic Council 2016)

- Canada - Peace by Chocolate, Hadhad family migrants from Syria to Canada, Jon Tattrie (Gooselane 2021)

- India-Pakistan - Flavours of the Frontier, Pushpa Kumari Bagai (Markings 2014) Comfort through cuisine for migrants of the Indo-Pak Partition

- Middle East - On the Hummus Route, Ariel Rosenthal, Orly Pell Bronshtein, Dan Alexander (Magica 2020) A Palestinian, a Lebanese and an Israeli walk into a bar...

- South Pacific - Me'a Kai, Robert Oliver, the cookbook that started the Pacific Island Food Revolution, changing food systems (Random House NZ 2010)

- Sweden - Nobel Prize Cookbook, Gert Klötske, Niclas Walhström, Fredrik Eriksson (Max Ström 2017) 120 years since the first Nobel Peace Prize in 1901

The exhibition is organized by the Gourmand Awards and the Hallbars Sustainability Research Institute, until October 21, 2021. The Gourmand Awards give a Food Book for Peace Award every year since 2004. The above books before 2021 all received a Best in the World Gourmand Award.

For information
www.hallbars.org

See books cover below

